unusual appearance about the office looked in through the window and saw Capt. Adams lying upon the settlee, his fuce being palled. A telephone message was scut to the police station and the men went around to the back door of the office and broke it in. It was a ghastly sight which met their eyes. The captain lay there upon his side with a bullet hole below his right temple, from which the blood had flowed down his face and on the floor lay a revolver, with one chamber empty. Coroner Finnegan was at once notified and repaired to the apot but after examloing the state of affairs decided that an inquest was unnecessary. The body was taken to Coroner Finnegan's under-Capt. In the discussion at the meeting of the City Government on Wednesday evening with regard to the hose house in Ward Seven I do not see any reference o the effect the purposed action may have upon the value of property and the taxaufe value of the surrounding estates. When the new school house on Palm street has been completed the lot owned by the city and now occupied by the Salem court school house will be for sale; It is upon a part of this property that the present hose house stands. The whole lot is none too large for a house lot and I think it well within bounds to say that it would sell for four times as much without the hose house as with. The several estates most contiguous would stand prohably ten per cent. higher valuation with the hose house elsewhere are other lots quite as desi able

He was a fool, sir," quoth Mr. Spectutor. "Why didn's he go to the administration? Why didn't he make his declaration? They know well enough that he had lost 200,000 frames in the course of ten days. They would have paid his traveling and hotel expenses back to Paris, or back to Brheil, for the matter of that. He was a fool, sir!" Mr. Speciator went on to explain that companies to provide for the famiwhen a cleaned out player made a candid admission of .h s impocuniosity the administration gave him a sun of men-ey sufficient to defray his journey sy railway to the place whence he came and his incidental expenses on route. He mentioned one case in which a whole family of five persons were allowed .5 louis apiece to take them from Monte Carlo to London, the sole condition attached to the largess being that the recipient should not re-enter the Casino unless he or she recouped the administration for their outlay. In the case which he cited, one of the party, a lady, who had not gone farther than Nice received some weeks afterward a handsome remittance from England. She went back blithely to "Monty," repaid the 15 louis, re-entered the Casino, and backing the donze demitr, not forgetting zero, won £300. You are not to believe," added Mr. Spectator, "a titlie of the sensations stories printed about rulned gamesters hanging themselves to trees in the gardens, or blowing out their brains in the reading room." The majority of these canards are set on fool by obscure French temspapers which have not been subventioned or bribed by the administration to puff Monte Carlo One of the pleasantest characteristics of my friend Mr. Spectafor is that every time you meet him he has a fresh story to tell you about an in fallible system for winning at roulette, and this time he regaled me with a succinet narrative of what I may call the 'Wellington boot system.' Captain Backum had played for many years a large number of systems, and by the time he was five and terms, and by the time he was five and forty had played away a handsome for-tune. A hippy though: occurred to him. He always were Wellington boots. His capital was just 5 louis. This he changed into a franc pieces, and he never staked more than or e piece at a time and if he wou he withd ow his stakes after the third coup. His winnings he carefully placed in a side pocket, and when ever he had won four pieces he changed them into a louis and alloped the coin into one of his boots. He played only seven consecutive hours before his stock capital was exhausted. Then he returned to Nice, somewhat hervy of footstep, and drawing of I is boots found that he had won 100 louis. "This was two years ago," continued Mr. Spectator, "and only last week I found Backum at a thi d'class hotel at Nice. He was it a dressing gown and slippers and looking by no means cheer-fol. How about the Vellington boot system?" I asked. 'Urter collapse, he replied. Confounded and of bad luck. And the boots?' I went in 'The boots?' he replied. I pawned them yesterday afternoon." So this is "Mosty" n full swing-

"Monty," with its ups and downs, its ceaseless whirl of gayety and dissipation. There is no rest at Monte Carlo. When you are tired of play, there are dramatic performances, there are con-certs, there is pigeon swoting, and in the spring and summer there is plenty of yachting. American Institute of Hornecopathy. The American Institute of Hornecopathy held its opening session in the First Bap ist Church at Newbort, R. I. This afternoon, one hundred and twenty-five doctors and a number of ladies being present. President Chas. E. Fisher, M. D., of Chicago, presided, and made a short opening speech.

After puryer by Rev. Isanc F. Thelps, Dr. J. C. Budlong, chairman of the local committee, rad an address of welcome in behalf of the local physicians. Governor Lippett welcomed the gathering in behalf of the State. Mayor Patrick J. Boyle welcomed the gathering to Newport. American Institute of Homeopathy.

Newport.
President Fisher responded. He said that before the close of the session the country from Maine to California would country from Malae to California would be represented. He then made his annual business a idress in which he criticised the present manner of conducting the business of the institute. The address was referred to the usual committee. The report of the legislative nommittee was read by its Secretary, E. H. Porter, M. D., of New York. Dr. Porter also reported for the committee on publication. Treasurer E. M. Kellogz, M. D., of New York, read his report which was accepted. The lustitute add pted measures to reduce its growing expenses.

In the evening President Fisher delivered the normal literary and scientific address.
